

ECMC

Director of Innovation Job Description

The Director of our ECMC Innovation Lab leads and fosters a culture of innovation to enable ECMC Group and its affiliates to identify and deliver innovative and powerful solutions that empower students to succeed in postsecondary education and in the pursuit of their career and experiential aspirations. The Innovation Lab leader is responsible for maintaining strategic relationships across the organization to bring together extensive knowledge and to collaborate closely to create and deliver solutions that solve complex problems. The leader will drive collaboration across ECMC Group, its various business units and the Information Technology department to provide highly integrated and cohesive solutions.

The Director is a thought leader of design thinking; a bridge that connects insights, ideas, and design executions. The leader is chartered with building and growing our mission-related solutions by identifying opportunities that are driven by user insights, inspired by trends, rooted in students' and graduates' needs, and brought to life by world-class design.

Who is ECMC

ECMC is one of 35 FFELP (Federal Family Education Loan Program) Guarantors. In addition to providing guarantor services, ECMC Group recently took over the majority of the schools formerly run by Corinthian Colleges. These schools have been moved to a non-profit status and collectively are referred to as the Zenith Education Group. All of the ECMC Group companies are guided by the mission to: Help Students Succeed.
